THE SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The Semi-Weekly edition of the GAZETTE is published on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week. It is a large paper, filled to the brim with home news, and just the thing to send to an absent friend. Price $2 per annum, postage paid, two papers per week.

How they will pitch into the beef steaks and mutton chops in the East when Chicago resumes the business of feeding the people!—Inter Ocean.

One good effect that is liable to come from this rioting in Chicago is the stopping or lessening of immigration. European papers are warning the people there that the United States have ceased to be an Eldorado.

The plan of shooting over the heads of rioters is good in its way, but when it results in the taking of the lives of three law-abiding persons, as at Danville, Ill., yesterday, it will be seen to have also its serious defects.

"General" Coxy cost the United States Government about $160,000. This represents the fees and expenses of deputy marshals and the cost of arresting the persons who paraded in his name in various parts of the country.

The strike at Pullman began May 11. Pullman is twelve miles south of Chicago on Lake Calumet, is a tract of 4,000 acres, and has a population of 15,000. There are nearly 2,000 houses rented to workmen. Over $18,000,000 is represented in the town and works.

"I believe this is the strongest government on earth," said Thomas Jefferson; "The only one where every man at the call of the laws, would rally to the standard of the law and meet invasions of public order as his own personal concern."

The New York Advertiser quotes the following from President Lincoln's message to Congress, December 6, 1864, as a good sentiment for this day, thirty years later: "In stating a single condition of peace I mean simply to say that the war will cease on the part of the Government whenever it shall have ceased on the part of those who began it."

The American yacht, "Vigilant" was beaten yesterday in English waters for the third time by the English yacht Britannia. The British ship was given three minutes the start but she beat the Vigilant more than that. Several races are to follow. It seems that on a straight course with a good wind the American vessel out sails the British one, but on the tack and in other branches of sailing the Britannia excels.

The Prince and Princess of Wales had a sad fright the other day. While they were driving in an open carriage, a man ran into the street and threw a parcel into the carriage. The Princess arose and stood in front of the Princess to protect her, but the parcel, in falling, was burst open and was seen to contain nothing more harmful than a bunch of flowers. The man was arrested and at the police station protested that he had intended nothing but to compliment the couple.

The Wilmington Journal in commenting on our article about the muss which is sought to be kicked up over the Lebanon convention by the Cincinnati Tribune remarks, correctly:

"We would ask the GAZETTE, as well as other papers in the district, not to include Clinton when mentioning that some counties are endeavoring to kick up a muss over Mr. Hulick's nomination. Clinton county is not participating in such a movement. She is for the nominee of the Lebanon convention, and the effort to create dissatisfaction will find no help and not even sympathy in this county. Place the blame where it belongs—with the Cincinnati Tribune, and do not misrepresent either men or counties."

In the current issue of the Railroad Gazette appears the record of train accidents that occurred during the month of May. The record shows that there were 100 accidents, of which 42 were collisions, 54 derailments and four other accidents. There were 34 persons killed and 111 injured.

Mrs. Mary A. Tupper has been released, at Wilton, Me., from the custody of extreme Female Weakness, which kept her a prisoner in bed unable to walk. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made the change. She advises all sick women to take this valuable medicine, and be thankful for their lives, as she is for hers. It costs only a dollar at any druggist, and the result is worth millions.

IN THE SENATE

VERY EXCITING TIMES OCCURRED.

Cleveland Commended by Senators North and South Save Peffer Who Comes in For a Scolding.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—No one can now say that patriotism does not dwell in the U. S. senate. None will assert that the wounds of the war have not been heeded, and that the Southern States are not cemented to the Union forever. The scenes in the Senate today have not been excelled for vigor and living patriotism.

Peffer, of Kansas, had made a speech in which he attacked the President for using regulars to preserve order in Chicago, a speech that was stupid in its malignancy and dangerous, coming at the time, when the Republic is undergoing a serious crisis. No sooner had the long-whiskered Populist become seated than Senator Davis, of Minnesota, so well known as a patriot and a man of courage, arose and replied. Davis had made no preparation, and spoke offhand, but seldom, if ever, has there been a better speech. His language was chosen carefully, and was stated with judicial calmness. The Senator, at no time became excited, but spoke deliberately as one dealing with a subject of the greatest importance. He endorsed the President and his many utterances made the breasts of every lover of his country swell with patriotism. Peffer sat looking like a whipped whelp.

When Senator Davis had finished his mainly utterances the Senate, which had been absolutely silent, broke into applause and almost every Senator there got up and shook hands with Davis and tears welled in the eyes of strong men. Then it was that General Gordon, of Georgia, carrying under his left eye a scar received in fighting against his country, stood up and proclaimed himself an American, and in terms that were earnest, defended the President and the country and said, as Davis had done, that this was a time, not for party spirit but patriotism. He with deep feeling, urged that the Union must be preserved at all hazards. As he uttered his tribute to the United States his eyes were wet and many of the Senators and occupants of the galleries wept and tried to hide this evidence of weakness which was the greatest tribute to their patriotism that could have been given. Then it was that another Southerner arose. Senator Daniels, and offered a resolution indorsing the President and citing the constitutional powers under which he acted.

Then when the Senate was about to adopt the resolution which was so needed, Gallinger, of New Hampshire, objected because he had not read it. He should have been destroyed then and there. It is probable that such an affecting scene will not be witnessed in the Senate again when party feeling is forgotten in the love of our country.

CALLED OUT.

Sovereign Appeals To the Knights of Labor for a General Strike.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 10.—Grand Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, and District Master Workman Lindblom, with a number of local Knights, held a conference at the Sherman House this afternoon. The result of the conference was that District Master Workman Lindblom issued a call to all local Knights of Labor to quit work this morning. This order, if obeyed, will seriously affect the South Side cable system, the Knights of Labor claiming that a majority of the men are members of the order. It is expected the order will be obeyed.

Grand Master Workman Sovereign issued an appeal to the Knights of Labor throughout the country. It is an appeal to quit work. He could not, in the absence of the Executive Board of the order, direct a cessation of work. The Executive Board could not reach the city in time to consider the matter and the appeal is issued after telegraphic communications with the belated members.

Favorable opinions of Eugene V. Debs are so rarely encountered as to be curiosities when they are met with. Eugene Field writes and the Chicago Record prints a statement to the effect that, while Debs is laboring in serious error at this time, he is a sincere, earnest and honest man. Mr. Field expressed the opinion that Debs is by no means dictatorial and is wholly incapable of executing or planning or suggesting or approving of violence. He adds: "If ye be ill or poor or starving or oppressed or in grief, your chances for sympathy and for succor from E. V. Debs are one hundred, where your chance with G. M. Pullman would be the little end of nil whittled down."

A YOUTHFUL BURGLAR

Is Shot and Killed by Columbus Police After a Hot Chase.

COLUMBUS, O., July 10.—This morning the police were looking for Tom Green, a well-known young thief, who yesterday stole a pair of trousers from a clothing store. Officer George Feist caught sight of his man in the market-house, but Green discovered him at the same time, and fled, with the officer in pursuit.

Green ran down Cherry alley. The policeman pressed a wagon into service, and was gaining on the fugitive, who had run down Main street to English alley. Suddenly Green jumped a fence, and the officer at the same time fired a shot in the air, and leaping from the wagon followed Green, who had climbed another fence. Another shot failed to stop the thief, but as the pursuer and pursued got into Harrison alley he stopped and, wheeling around, pointed his revolver at Feist. But the latter's weapon spoke first. Green put his weapon in his pocket, and leaning against the fence, said to the approaching officer with a smile: "I'll give up." It was not known at the time that he was wounded, but as the officer took the revolver from his pocket he pitched forward on his face, and in a few moments was dead. He had been shot through the left side.

Surely "coming events cast their shadows before" and the next winter will be a cold one if we may judge from the number of coal firms in our village: Earley & Haughey, Hite & Probasco, Dr. Snider and J. A. Jackson. All these firms are now prepared to furnish you with coal. Now is the time to put in your winter coal.

BOARD OF VISITORS

TO THE COUNTY INSTITUTIONS.

They Command Those in Charge, But Recommend the Building of a New Jail and Making Other Improvements.

Report of the Board of County Visitors for the inspection of charitable and correctional institutions to the Judge of Common Pleas court.

"Duty is not always pleasure," but in this case we are happy to state we were more than pleased with the result of our visit to the Infirmary, Children's Home, work house and jail.

Our visits were wholly unexpected, and on Monday also, which is surely a test day in the large families of these institutions. But universally everything was in perfect order.

Supt. and Mrs. Shepherd, of the Infirmary, are surely the right persons in the right place. Their kind, considerate, but firm government secures the good will and co-operation of the inmates. The insane department is under the efficient management of Mr. Will Stark, who proves to be eminently fitted for the place. The Children's Home is a model of neatness and order. The genial and capable manager, Mrs. Cooper, seemed happy to have a thorough investigation of the premises.

The same can also be said of Supt. and Mrs. Brannum, of the work house, and of Sheriff and Mrs. Dodds, of the jail, all looking conscientiously to the welfare of those under their care. And also as with the institutions, making arrangements for gospel services with the inmates for their uplifting to a better life.

We urgently present the following recommendations:

That window and door screens be provided for the Infirmary. Also that arrangements be made for drainage in the wash room.

That a new kitchen be added to the Children's home.

That a new jail be built, or at the very least, better arrangements made for ventilation by adding a set of lower windows. Men are not made better by having their physical conditions made worse. We commend the Sheriff for securing the improvement which has been made.

Respectfully submitted.
MRS. W. A. SHAFER, Sec'y,
JAMES KYLE, Pres.

WHOLEDSOME TALK.

Editor Yale of the Home Weekly Moralizes on Laziness.

Home Weekly.—It has been reported that two of the boys who left the Home two weeks ago to take places secured for them by influential friends have already abandoned them because the work was too hard. We sincerely hope that the implication of laziness conveyed by these reports is unfounded. There is no use of mincing words in regard to this matter. The boy who is discharged from this institution with the idea in his head that he is going to have an easy time in the world, that a living will come whether he earns it or not, is bound to make a most stupendous failure in life unless he can speedily forget such nonsense. The world has no use for drones, and no sympathy to waste upon them.

The man who has gained a start in business by hard work himself will not have about him a boy who will not work. And little sympathy will be extended to a high-minded youth of sixteen who objects to working 10 hours a day for $6 a week by men who at the same age had finished their own education and were serving apprenticeships, at 25 cents a day and finding their own board. Such examples of indolence are disgusting to those who have endeavored to assist such young people in their preparations for life, and we are happy to say are not common among those discharged from this place; but every one is one too many, and throws a hindrance in the way of others who are seeking places by giving a bad name among business men to the whole class. Laziness is one of the vices for which the business world will accept no apology whatever.

Pearline saves work and wear. It saves time and money in all you have to do; all you have to do is to get Pearline.
