Correspondence

Ida Butler, of Goulais River, Ontario Canada, descends from immigrant Jan Gerretse Dorlandt and his grandson John who married Mary Birdsall through their grandsons Joseph Durland, who married Elizabeth McBride and Charles Durland, who married Charlotte Robinson. She found out about a book about the Durlands by Dori Fulk and another book called "The Durland Family in America" and yet another by Ray O. Durland which traces the Durland name back to the Netherlands. We would all appreciate any information on where to find copies of these books and if anyone has read them and whether they are recommended for use in the research of our Durland families.

Marynell Durland Kirkwood wrote to us from Moline IL. She also descends from immigrant Jan Gerretse Dorlandt and his grandson John, who married Mary Birdsall through Charles, who married Jane A. Swartout and their youngest son Samuel, who married Elizabeth Chesire. We show more on this line later in this issue of this newsletter.

The Artist Regina Dorland Robinsons

From an article sent in by Mrs. Pat Wilcox Kennedy we learn the story of the tragically short life of a very good artist in several different media including oils and charcoal in the forms of impasto, impressionism and glazing. Her self-portrait shows at left. From census reports we find out a little more about her family history. We are studying her paternal grandmother to find out Regina's Dorland ancestry. Any help in this research would be appreciated.

From the John Dorland and Mary Birdsall line the ancestors and descendants of Thomas Edwin Durland

The following data was compiled from census data and other information sent in by Marynell Durland Kirkwood, a long time resident of IL. She attended Knox College in Galesburg, IL and taught school while her husband was in the Air Force in Europe. In 1964 he decided to become a missionary of the United Methodist Church, and they served in India from 1965 until 1986. She is divorced, retired, and lives in Moline, IL near her two daughters. Her son lives a little further away in Munster, IN. The whole family of 22 persons got together for the first time in 15 years this past August 1997. This was a nice reunion for her and then shortly after that she attended a Durland reunion in Livonia, MI where there were 44 cousins gathered together.

Marynell would like to make contact with descendants of her great uncle Walter "Coe" Durland. She had not found his children or grandchildren. Some of those descendants were found in the 1900 and 1920 census reports and are included below.

The genealogy below shows only the line involved; that is, only one child of each of the first six generations is showing to allow for emphasis on the line of Thomas Edwin Durland that is being studied in detail here.

Research Report

We would like to study a problem in the Daniel Durland line concerning a Miss Elizabeth Milbury m. DeMotte Durland. One Miss Milbury (b. 1772) is found on page 66 of Cremer and married a son of Daniel Durland and Sarah DeMotte, DeMotte Durland (b. 1771), and had seven children born between 1800 and 1813. The other Miss Milbury (b. 1818) from page 67 of Cremer married a grandson of Daniel Durland and Sarah DeMotte, DeMotte Durland (b. 1827), and had six children found in the 1850 census for NY all born between 1836 and 1848.

DORLAND FAMILY REDWOOD

JANUARY 1998

If we just knew the names of the parents of these two Elizabeth Milburys, maybe it would be much easier to keep them straight. The only place we have for any of these people is New York state, which is not very definitive.

The younger DeMotte Durland is reported by Cremer to have also married an Elizabeth Durling, his first cousin. There is no indication of the dates of the marriages or which marriage came first.

Ida Butler points out that she has found a Mary Milbury born 1772 in Ireland who married a DeMotte Durland. Which family is this?

We need more research in these areas.

Samuel Dorland and Anna Esmond Continued

Previously we presented a display of this couple and their descendants to four generations.
