

6 March 1990

Dear Robert,

Since my letter of 8 March 1985, being now in my 97th year and partially paralyzed, I have become a permanent resident at the following address.

Saluda Nursing Center (Room B11)
P.O. Box 398
Saluda, S.C. - 29138

By the mercy of the Good Lord, I still have a good mind and read, write, and converse with my many friends. However, my daughter Elizabeth (with the assistance of her husband) manages all of my business affairs. They still live in West Columbia (Springdale Community).

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Taylor
3107 Caledale Road
West Columbia, S.C. - 29169

I have finished writing the manuscripts for the Folk and Zeigler families, with all associated ancestral lines traced back to immigrants who came from specified European countries. The manuscripts have been typed, but I had to make many corrections and changes. In some instances a record is given concerning the activities of the immigrant's family in the particular European country.

I wish to donate the manuscripts to you - as a free gift - for publication, with the stipulation that you give me a specified number of free copies. My age, physical condition, and residential situation make it impossible for me to attempt publication.

I request that you come to the Saluda Nursing Center to get the manuscripts, and more fully discuss the matter. You doubtless will remember that some years ago you visited me while I was living in a trailer on my farm in Saluda County. Let me know the specific date and time when you will come.

My love and best wishes to you and Cora.

Sincerely,
Earle
