

NORTON BUCKNER, DAUGHTER OF ROBERT'S GODFREY NORTON, SR.

John Chaplin, 1682. Phoebe Chaplin, his wife, born June 27, 1691. died 1762. Johnathan Norton, born July 14, 1705. Married Mary Ann, daughter of John and Phoebe Chaplin, May 16, 1732. Died April 28, 1774. Mary Ann, wife of Johnathan Norton, born 1716. John Norton, son of John and Mary Ann, born 1716. Died leaving no issue. Phoebe Norton, daughter of Johnathan and Mary Ann, born 17-- Jane Norton, daughter of Johnathan and Mary Ann, born 17--, left no issue. Johnathan Norton, son of Johnathan and Mary Ann, born 174-, died 1754. William Norton, born 1744, died 17--. William Norton, born 17-- died 17--.

Sarah Norton, baptized by Rev. Joseph Cook, Elizabeth Norton, daughter of Johnathan and Mary Ann, born Sept. 11, 1749, Married John Joyner, then Rev. William Graham (Episcopal) After his death, she was baptized in Savannah by Rev. Henry Holcombe. Dorothy Phoebe, daughter of Johnathan and Mary Ann Norton, born Nov 18, 175- married Dr. Geo. Mosse. Baptized by Rev. Joseph Cook, died on Black Swamp, Her husband preceeded her between 6 and 7 weeks, 1809 in the spring. Burial place nearly lost. Martha Norton, daughter of Johnathan and Mary Ann, born 175-, baptized by Rev. Jos. Cook. Married Scott. Left by him no issue. Her second marriage was with Pope. Their children were James; William; Susan, Sarah; Martha; and Jane. The latter never married. The two sons married Eleanor and Mary Adams. William left no children. The daughter of James and Elinor married Dr. Melichamp. James, M. I son of James and Elinor married Miss Caroline Crowell, of Bluffton, who died at the birth of her first child, a girl. Dr. James Pope then married Miss Bruin of Savannah. Died soon after. Susan Pope, daughter of Martha and --- Pope married John Cole, who died leaving his wife a widow, with four children- Joseph; John; James and Elizabeth. Her second marriage was with Rev. McDonald, Baptist Minister in the town of Beaufort. They left one child of this marriage, Mary Ann, who was brought up by her father's relatives in Georgia.

She accompanied her half brother, James Cole, to Galveston, where she died, unmarried. James Cole married Mary Jane, daughter of Rev. James Graham, a Baptist Minister in the town of Beaufort. Their oldest daughter became blind at a very early age - a very interesting and intelligent child. Joseph Cole married a daughter of Thomas Salbird, of Beaufort. They left one child, Mary. John Cole married Gertrude Pope, who left one child. He died young. Gertrude was a daughter of William Pope, of Hilton Head. Residence was near the beach, on the Atlantic Ocean, near where Fort Walker was built, John Cole then married Caroline Corley. They raised several daughters and some sons. Their daughter, Alice, married a son of Rev. James Stoney (Episcopalians). After the death of John Cole his family moved to Galveston, to be under the protection of his brother, Judge James Cole. Martha Pope married Thurston Hopkins. She resided in the town of Beaufort. She was soon left a widow, with two children -- Thomas and Eliza. Thomas practised law for a few years. Then he and wife, Louise Jane Bessilew, becoming converted and baptized by Rev. Richard Fuller, he renounced his profession at once, and became a preacher. Died triumphant in Greenville, S.C. His wife soon followed. His mother and sister took the only remaining child of Thomas and Louise and moved to Galveston to reside with the nephew James Cole. Mrs. Martha Hopkins died at an advanced age. A memorial window was placed in the Baptist Church in Galveston, of which she was among the earliest and oldest members. Her daughter, Eliza, was born a cripple. Though dwarfed in body was by no means so in intellect. Well informed, interesting and cheerful. She was carried in the arms, placed in a small carriage, drawn by a servant, then taken to church and school. She assisted in the care of her orphaned nephew. Also her blind cousin. Thurston Hopkins, son of Thomas lives in Texas. Elizabeth, daughter of Susan and John Cole, Sr. married Ben Franklin Smith, of Charleston. She left three children, Cornelia, (or Nena) James and Ella. Nena married in Kansas . James married Sallie Stafford. They had no children, but adopted the two girls his sister Ella left. Sarah, daughter of Martha Pope, married Paul Barnes. Of their large family, only a few survived her. Her oldest son, William, left one or two children, who lived with his wife's relatives, I think in Philadelphia. Mary married Thomas Farr. Left a son called after his father. Martha, her oldest sister, then married Farr. Caroline married Venning, and soon died. Ellen, the youngest- dont know whether she married or not.

Dr. George Mosse was born in Ireland. In what part, we know not. Came to America after he had received his medical profession. Settled on St. Helena Island, off the coast of S.C. Married a Mbs Martin. Of her family, we are not informed. She soon died, leaving no issue. He then married Dorothy Phoebe, sister of William Norton. They had seven daughters, all of whom lived to a good old age, and left a numerous posterity. Martha, the 6th daughter died at age of 47, which was comparatively young compared to the time allotted each of her sisters. Esther, or Hettie, married McKenzie, then Hughes; had one child and that by her first marriage, Phebe or Sibby, married John Robert, and raised large family, mostly sons. Lawrence and William are Baptist ministers. Milton and Francis Wayland are lawyers. Stoney (deceased) M.D. A pair of twin Daughters Juliens never married. Lives near Atlanta with her brother Frank. Adeline married Alexander Chovin. Her two children, live about Bohartie. or near Aunt Hettie. Died at age of 65 in 1837. Aunt Martha, wife of Col Alexander Lawton, deceased and mother of Gen.A.R. Lawton, died July 1836. aged 47. Elizabeth Mosse, married on St. Helena Island Jas. Stoney of Hilton Head. She was baptized at the age of 12 years. The one she afterwards married, while standing at the water side, was so struck with the decision of this little girl that he could not lose the favorable impression made upon him, though he did not become a professor himself. They lived on their island home in the winter and Beaufort in the summer. Raised two out of fifteen children - George Mosse and Martha Sarah. Dr. G.M. Stoney married Miss Scott. Joseph; James and Eliz. were the three children left by them. Elizabeth married John Richardson. His 2nd wife was Miss Barnwell, by whom was born four daughters and a son, called after his father Geo. Mosse. He was killed in the war. Ann, her oldest daughter, married Wm. Graham. Emma married Middleton. Stuart; Chattie and Addie were the others. Martha Sarah, daughter of James and Eliz. Stoney, married Thomas Barksdale. He owned several large plantations on Hilton Head and one on Callaboga. They had no children. He was a man of the world. They adopted a child, Josephine Polhill, who married Dr. Ben Lawton. His oldest brother, Rev. Jos. N. became the second husband of the widow of Thos. Barksdale. Of the children of Joseph and Martha only one remains. Samuel. His two children died young. Rev. Joseph, after the decease of his first wife, and that of his brother, married Josephene, the widow of the latter. Ebebe the third daughter of George and Ebebe Mosse married Joseph I. Lawton. These three oldest daughters married on St. Helena, two in Sav'h, Jane and Mary and two on St. Swamp, Martha and Sarah. Our grandfather, Mosse, in addition to his medical practice, had a large store on the same island. He had his tan vats by the riverside. The fine leather he bought; had boots and shoes made to order. His journeymen and apprentices were many. Every month he went in his 12 oared boat to Sav'h or Charleston, alternately to purchase goods. The older daughters rec'd their finishing schooling in Charleston. He had a male teacher in the house, sometimes he staid in grandfather Norton's house, two miles off. Mrs. McKenzie, or Aunt Hettie, lived in Sav'h. Kept a small boarding house in Bay Street. This was an inducement for her parents to move there, as they had several daughters to educate, not wishing to send them from home, he sold his possessions on St. Helena and moved to Savannah, either in 1799 or 1800. Her remark about this change was that he did not make dollars in Sav'h where he made pounds (Sterling) on St. Helena. The latter currency was what he had dealt with when he first carried on business. When our grand parents were young, they were all Episcopalians, having been brought up in the Church of England. From their own convictions, they became Baptists. First Dr. Mosse, then William Norton. The church they united with was Euhaw, on the Main. They attended as often as they could, but it was very inconvenient. So they set about having a church on their own island. They were its first deacons. Every quarterly meeting, a boat was manned by them and sent to Beaufort to bring those who wished to come and they were entertained and set back on the following Monday. Thus a congregation was raised. How long before they left this island did they build a place of worship I know not. A gentleman who went to attend the meetings said: "We lodged with one, Simon, a tanner whose house is by the seaside." Act: 10:32: Another, or grandfather Norton came towards them, and said; "Behold an Israelite, indeed, in whom is no guile." St. John: 1:47. Doctor Mosse invested in seven small wooden house, so as to divide his property equally. He lived there several years. Jane, the 4th daughter, married Benjamin H. Lawton, of BK. Swamp; another being already living there, the wife of Joseph Lawton, so they had a drawing thither. Mary, the 5th daughter, married Adam Brisbane, of Charleston. Our grandparents moved their membership to Sav'h, those of their daughters who had been baptised previously were baptised in Sav'h by Rev. Henry Holce D.D.. Also their first grand daughter, child of Esther McKenzie afterwards. She was 7 yrs. old at the time, and maintained a Christian course, making allowance for the childishness of her extreme youth. Grandfather Norton never lived in Sav'h. After his much loved brother-in law and his own sister, Phebe Mosse, moved to Sav'h, St. Helena lost its attractions for him.

2 He purchased where the town of Bluffton now stands.

His first marriage was with Mary Godfrey. The children of this marriage were Johnathan, John, Elizabeth, Mary Bridget, Robert G. and Josiah Holbrook. Three of his sons settled about May River, and Okatie Creek. Robert went to Savannah while a youth and entered the counting house of Jackson. He was baptized and joined the same church that Grandfather Mosse and family belonged to. Uncle Johnathan learned boatmaking and continued to make them till he moved to Savannah, about 1832 or 33. Uncle John learned carpentering, but gave it up for surveying, at which he would often make 10.00 per day. Uncle Josiah learned the wheelwright business. These 3 brothers, for many years, lived a few miles apart, on their plantations, each carrying on their various trades. Johnathan and John moved to Savannah about the same time. Josiah sold his pretty place called Sherburn, and obtained the same place his father had owned. This is where Rattie was born. Uncle John married Rebecca Stoll. Had two children, Adeline and Stoll, who both died, then they adopted two little Swedish girls, named Lindergesch, their father, a sea captain, dying. Their mother also died leaving them young. They were a great comfort to their adopted parent. One of them married Rev. Farley Sweet. The other never married. Their children have always been as our dear relatives. Uncle Johnathan married Ann Dickson, Aunt Nancy, we called her. She was his stepmother's child. Grandfather Norton's first wife died, while her son, Josiah, was a baby. Faithful old black woman raised him tenderly. Father was quite a little boy. The girls were taken. Aunt Mary, afterwards DeBow, was taken by Aunt Pope, who was sister of Grandfather Norton. Aunt Eliza was taken by a Mrs. Barnwell, of Beaufort, who claimed to be a distant relative. She continued to live with her till she was grown. Uncle Johnathan and Aunt Nancy had only daughters, five in all, three of whom were raised. The youngest one, Catherine, married Benjamin L. Cole, Of 5 children, three sons and two daughters only one survives up to this day- 1891. His name is Benjamin T. Married

Eugenia, daughter of Dr. Alexander R. Norton. They have 6 children, and some grandchildren. Josiah married Henrietta Jane Katterson (I dont know if I spell the name right) Of their 6 children, Virginia, Wm. Julius, Mandy Milton, and Sarah Virginia, only one survives, the last named one, now called Hattie. Uncle Josiah had some reasons of his own for not fancying to call his wife by either of her names, so he called her Harriet. After her death, he always wished that the babe she left should go by the name he gave her mother. It was not until after his death, when she was ten years old, did she go by that appellation. So she was called in his will, and that became her lawful name. Toody was all the name she had previously known. She married William B. son of Dr. A.R. Norton. Their children were Julia, Pink or Eugenia Florence, Jackie, Hollie, Malenor, or Nellie, and Annie Leila. Two oldest girls died the same day, aged 5 & 7. Nellie was 6 mos. old when she died. Robert G. Norton at the age of 19 yrs. and 6 mos. married his first cousin, Sarah Mosse, by the Rev. Wm. Scott on Bk. Swamp. in the house of their aunt, Mrs. Graham. Her mother had died 6 wks previously and her father 3 mos. A mourning party. My father taught school in Robertville for 3 yrs. Their first child Phebe Mary, was born in house of Aunt Graham. Aunt Martha was also married in Aunt Graham's house, to Alexander Lawton. Aunt Graham was well off and had no children. Being equally related to grandmother Mosse and grandfather Norton, i.e. sister to each, as she was a Miss Norton, as were grandmother Mosse and Aunt Pope. Aunt Graham had a large wooden house, built on the corner of Broughton & West Broad Sts. There she arranged with grandfather and grandmother Mosse that they should keep house and board for the rent of it. She adding her own furniture and house servants. So that was the family home the greater part of the time of their residence in Sav'h. Aunt Jane Lawton and Aunt Mary Brisbane were married in it. The school for young ladies was a wooden building on Julien and Lincoln Sts. fronting the latter. Castle Row is now on that spot. The building was called the Filature. In that house Aunt Nancy lived for several years. Her daughter Catherine was married there to Ben.L. Cole, in 1837. She bought a house on West Broad and Harris Sts. where she always lived after wards. Soon after the marriage of Uncle Johnathan and Aunt Nancy they adopted a child three years old named Ann Jones. This was as great a comfort to them as any of their own children. She outlived all of their own children, having tended them like an own sister and was over 50 yrs of age at the time of her death. Sarah was the oldest child. She made an unfortunate marriage, with Joachim Boyd. Their children died young. Five daughters and no sons were the offspring of Johnathan and his wife Susan, Margaret, and Jane Sophia died at Oaktie. Sarah and Lucia died in Sav'h. Catherine, the youngest, died in Beaufort. She was at dinner when she slid from her chair, striking her forehead on the table, and expired instantly. She ate a piece of apple the minute before which probably hastened her end. Her father died in 1834. Uncle John Norton died in 1842. Both in Savannah. My father, Robert G. Norton died in 1863. My mother died in 1867. Aunt Susan, a half sister of the Nortons, died in 1841. Uncle Josiah had a complication of diseases, probably dropsy was one of them. He died in his sixtieth year on St. Helena Is. at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wallace. He was interred in the May River church yard, where his wife was buried in 1845 and four of his children, at various times. Uncle Josiah survived his wife perhaps seven or eight years. Died somewhere about 1853. Three children preceded their parents. Three survived them. William and Julius were young men when their parents died, or nearly so. William died of fever at the house his parents had lived in in Bluffton at the age of 25yrs. He belonged to the Beaufort District Company of Troopers. On the 4th of July after becoming very much heated from parading in Grahamville, partook too freely of ice. A spell of illness soon followed. While Convalescent, ate watermelon, which brought on billious colic. Thus ended his mortal life on the 16th of July.

Julius died in Savannah, several years afterwards. Was interred in Laurel Grove. Hattie, the last child and wife of William D. Norton had six children, two of whom are laid by the side of her brother Julius and one in Milltown. Aunt Nancy raised her after the death of her mother, until she was 10 yrs old. Aunt E. Wallace took care of her several years. Then her uncle, Robert G. Norton, took charge of her and placed her at a boarding school. She married the year after graduating at the age of 17 yrs. One of her best friends was Miss Duke, afterwards Mrs. John Norton. As far back as we can trace the Norton, after they came from England, they lived on St. Helena for over a century. After grandfather Mosse moved to Bk. Swamp about 1807, and dividing a large body of land among his children, he made made but one crop, Died in 1808. Their graves are lost, or nearly so. Aunt Graham built a house on the next tract to them. She left it to my parent who sold it to Mr. John H. Roberts, Sr. My father settled on the extreme end of the tract inherited by mother from her father, on the Coosawhatchie Road, two miles from Robertville. That was the family home, burned by the Yankees. Mother died in a cabin on the same premises two years after the war. Then father and his two single daughters, Margaret Norton and Martha Buckner, moved to the house of his granddaughter, Mrs. Geo. Goethe, where he died nearly a year after mother, on 26th of May 1863, aged 79 yrs. 5 months and 11 days. He was disabled for several years. His daughter, Adoline, wife of Rev. Jas. Sweat, lived quite near where he passed the last 6 mos of his life. He and mother, also their son, Robert G. aged 25 with some of their grandchildren, lie in Robertville graveyard. Six young children of theirs are in the old cemetery. Isabella Graham, in her fourth year and 5 at their birth. Roberts Sweat, their grandson, is interred in Robertville. During the old Revolutionary War, of seventy-six, our grandfather Norton served that William Norton (?) He was captured by the British. His sister, Eliz. Joyner, afterwards Graham, hearing that he was sick, rode on horse back to the enemy's camp, with a permit she had obtained from their commander, asking for her brother. Having him placed on a horse, she returned, leading the horse right by their troops. She wore a cap with a white feather in it to show that she was on the American side. Every British officer pulled off his cap as she passed, and the ranks were opened for her to pass through. The Yankee army never did anything like that. She died at the age of 83, in the house of her nephew and niece, Robert and Sarah Norton. The first one who was buried in Robertville churchyard in 1832. The next one buried there was Rev. Martin Swift, the pastor of that church. She had step children only, one of whom the village of Grahamville is named after. My father's sister, Mary, married Garret Debow, a northerner. They resided mostly in Charleston. Their children were Eliz. Jas. D., William and B. Debow, Arabella and Benj. Franklyn. Mr. Garret Debow died while some of their children were quite small. Aunt Mary and the son William died of Asiatic cholera in 1836. Mother and son were carried on the hearse together. Eliz, married Joseph Ainger. They left three children, Virginia who married Wm. Penrofoy, then William Lafar. Eliz. married Rivers. Had no issue. Mrs. Lafar had one son. Joseph Wallace Ainger, the last child, never married. James Debow married Miss Poe of Georgetown, S.C. She left one child, who was burned to death by a lighted match falling on her dress after she was attired for a party. The second marriage of Jas. Debow was with Miss Johns, of Tennessee. He left her a widow, with two sons. They now live in Nashville as does their mother, who married a Dr. Nichols of that place. B.F. Debow married Josephene Bell, of Charleston. They had no issue. After the death of Frank married Mr. Reid. The two brothers died soon after the war in Elizabeth City, N.J. Frank had consumption. James was sent for to see his brother. A Neglected cold hastened his end, so that he died four days before Frank died. Arabella Debow married Wm. Perry on St. Helena. She left a babe six week old, called after her mother. Arabella Perry married William G. Capers of that same island. They left 4 children.

A son of theirs, Debow Capers, is in business in Charleston. Alexander, son of Robert and Sarah Norton was married to Julia, daughter of Dr. John and Aurelia Green in Screven County, Ga. on the evening of the 11th of Dec. 1833, by Rev. Joseph I. Lawton. They lived in Robertville, S.C. until the approach of Sherman's army in 1865. They are both interred in Laurel Grove Cemetery Savannah. The first child, Sarah Aurelia, was born the 11th of October 1834. Died September 1839. Buried in Robertville, S.C. William Benjamin was born Feb. 9th, 1836. Married to Harriet Virginia, daughter of Josiah H. Norton, in the Baptist Church in Robertville on March 31, 1861 by Rev. Jn.G. Williams.
