Ellis Reunion

Submitted by Loring Ellis

Festivities of the Ellis Reunion began Friday and ended Sunday, July 4. Relatives from all over the states gathered at the Martin-Millet Community House for a covered dish supper. The hut was decorated in a Bicentennial motif, with pictures of Presidents and flags. Saturday there was more fun at the Holiday Inn, and services were held at old Lower Three Runs Baptist Church, Martin, Sunday, with a capacity crowd. Rev. Billy Mew, pastor, delivered an inspiring message.

Ellis relatives converged again at the community house for the noon meal. Hayne Harper, president, of Clemson, presided.

After dinner, business was attended to. New officers were installed and outgoing ones applauded for their services. It was also noted that 85 had registered.

Etta Dunbar Brittain had prepared documents which contained the family lineage of Julianna Baynard Ellis, maternal ancestor. Research dated back to Paul Grimball of Edisto Island in 1682. Ms. Brittain also presented a tribute to her paternal grandmother, Cecilia Florence Ellis Dunbar.
